THE EXHIBITION WILL RUN FROM 1ST OF JULY TO 20TH JULY

Five students spent a year recording their personal and shared experiences of studying away from home in urban settings across India. This exhibition features their life and shared experiences through photographs and text focusing on the opportunities and challenges they face, and the memories of home they recreate/evoked. It is part of a larger project on “Education-driven urban migration, Himalayan youth, and future aspirations in India” conducted by Dr Sara Smith and Mabel Gergan.

Supported by the Ladakh Arts and Media Organisation and University of North Carolina Geography.
